DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because, it exceeds the limit which is 150 words in length. Corrections are required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Abstract limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words is required.

Art Unit: 2182

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

2. Claims 11-47 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-37 of U.S. Patent No. 6,389,494. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they recite means or steps that are substantially the same and that would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

3. Claims 11, 20-21, 29-30, 39-40 and 44 essentially repeat all the features listed in the US. Pat. 6,389,494, claims 1, 10-11, 19-20, 29-30, and 34. There are some changes:

the recitation throughout the claims of “each one of the directors comprising a central processing unit” which does not appear in the corresponding claims of the US. Pat. 6,389,494.

However, both the concept and the advantages of having the directors comprising a central processing unit is old and well known in the art.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have each one of the directors comprising a central processing unit, because, by using a CPU-driven director, the mode of operation may be flexibly changed under software control, without extensive hardware redesign, in addition, the CPU hardware is standard and quite inexpensive and readily available.

4. Claims 12-19 are identical to the patent claims 2-9.

5. Claims 22-28 are identical to the patent claims 12-18.

6. Claims 31-38 are identical to the patent claims 21-28.

7. Claims 41-43 are identical to the patent claims 31-33.

8. Claims 45-47 are identical to the patent claims 35-37.

Art Unit: 2182

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 11-47 would be allowable if Applicant files a terminal disclaimer thereby overcoming the double patenting rejection.
